Program Description
The French Studies Abroad Program in Tours will consist of an intensive three-week period of study and seven days of orientation and extracurricular travel. It will offer students at the intermediate and advanced levels an opportunity to further their knowledge of French language, literature and culture in a rich cultural environment and a rigorous academic setting. The program should be of particular interest to undergraduates at the intermediate level seeking to fulfill their foreign language requirement as well as to advanced undergraduates minoring or majoring in French. Graduate students should contact the program director concerning the possibility of obtaining graduate credits.

Eligibility
The program is open to undergraduate students who will have completed at least French 1002 by the end of the Spring semester. To qualify, students must have a GPA of 3.0 and an average of at least a B in their French courses. Program size is limited and participation is contingent upon acceptance by the Program Director.

Accommodations
The program will be located in Tours, in the heart of the Loire Valley. Students will live with carefully selected French families, who will provide lodgings and two meals a day. Weekend and afternoon/evening excursions will be organized to a number of famed Loire châteaux within easy reach of Tours. A visit to Mont St. Michel and St. Malo are also planned. The first four days will be spent in Paris.

Application Deadline: February 1, 2020

Application Information
Students interested in applying should find this program’s listing at mystudyabroad.gsu.edu and begin an online application.

Courses and Credits

Please note: in addition to applying for this program, you must also register for the program course in GoSOLAR. Students will take two courses centered on language and culture, for a total of six credits. Upper-level undergraduates and graduate students will be able to sign up courses in literature, civilization and culture taught by the faculty of the Institut de Touraine. The courses will be adapted to the level of proficiency reached by the student participating in the program. The language courses will be taken at the prestigious Institut de Touraine, in classes of no more than fifteen students. The latest technical laboratory equipment will be at their disposal. Please see Program Director for more information. Students from other institutions should follow their institution’s regulations concerning transfer credits.

Program Cost

Program cost may vary at any time according to currency fluctuations and changing travel arrangements. The program cost is tentatively set at $3,595 in addition to regular Georgia State University tuition and fees. Non-resident/out-of-state students will pay in-state tuition plus a $250 fee in addition to the program cost. A $300 deposit is due at time of application.
